Amendments Approved at the First Meeting of the Executive Council for the 2018-2019 Academic Year on September 13, 2018
Amendments Approved at the Fourth Meeting of the Executive Council for the 2021-2022 Academic Year on December 9, 2021

Article 1: Objectives

These Regulations were formulated in order to support government policies to expand the recruitment of international students and to boost the enrollment of outstanding international students in undergraduate and master's programs at the University.

Article 2: Eligibility

International students may apply for the scholarship if they are applying for admission to an undergraduate or master's program in accordance with the University's admission brochure and they are not receiving another form of scholarship or financial assistance from the R.O.C. government to pursue a degree.

Article 3: Number of Recipients

The number of recipients will be determined based on the annual budget each academic year.

Article 4: When to Apply

Applications are made in accordance with the online application dates specified in the admission brochure for international students.

Article 5: How to Apply

Applications are made through the online application system. Supporting documents may be uploaded to the system. Supporting documents include proof of language proficiency, proof of awards earned in international competitions, published articles, and master's theses. (Please upload a Chinese or English translation if any of the aforesaid documents are in another language.)

Article 6: Term, amount, and disbursement

The scholarship is awarded for four consecutive semesters. The scholarship begins in the semester for which the recipient was granted admission and after the recipient has completed registration. The recipient will receive NT$10,000, 30,000 or 50,000 per semester. The scholarship is disbursed in monthly installments after the recipient completes registration for the semester.

Article 7

The scholarship will be forfeited under the following circumstances:

1. The recipient does not complete registration; takes a voluntary leave of absence; discontinues studies; or receives a demerit for gross misconduct.
2. The recipient fails to complete sufficient credits: Undergraduates must fulfill the credit requirements specified in Fu Jen Catholic University Regulations Governing Course Registration. Master's students in first year must complete a minimum of six credits per semester; master's students in second year must complete a minimum of three credits per semester;
3. The recipient fails to earn the required average grade in any two semesters: an undergraduate must earn an average grade of at least seventy percent; a master's student must earn an average grade of at least eighty percent.
4. The recipient is absent for more than one-fifth of the combined total of class hours between all courses in which they are registered.

Article 8: Review and Announcement

The International Student Center at the Office of International Education accepts applications and conducts a preliminary review. The Review Committee for International Academic Exchange then conducts a secondary review. After an application has been approved, it will be announced on the Admission for International Students webpage.

Article 9

These Regulations were passed by the Executive Council, and will be promulgated and implemented after the approval of the President. The same procedure will be followed for each amendment.
